Meanwhile they plan to "take a chance" and keep open after midnight tonight for the sale of all kinds of drinks, including whisky. Efforts will be made, it is said, to induce the attorney general of New York to proceed with an injunction restraining the federal government from enforcing the law. Hotels and restaurants, with few exceptions, are prepared for a big "wet" celebration tonight, but many of them will limit their sales to beer and light wines after 12 o'clock, the hour which nominally is to make a Sahara of the is to make a Sahara of the

Thousands of reservations have been made in hoteis and restaurants for the celebration of the passing of liquor, and proprietors predicted a revel which is expected to surpass those that have taken place on New Year eve.

AWAIT LOW RATE

Post Office Officials Expect Rush of Business After 12 O'Clock Tonight.

Floods of letters, held back to take advantage of the pre-war postage rates, which go into effect at midnight, are expected to assail the Washington city post office and other large city post offices of the country. The Post Office Department is looking for much congestion at New York and for much congestion at New York and Chicago, especially, where the mail order business is heaviest.

Officials at the local city post office made preparations today to handle the big rush of letters which is expected to begin at midnight. It is believed that many merchants and others here who have a large number of letters to each out have here were and others are seen and the second out have been says. of letters to send out have been sav-ing them up for the last few days in order to take advantage of the old pink two-cent stamps, which at mid-night will replace the purple three-cent stamps.

The city post office will not lose a man through lack of appropriations, all workers being provided for in the bill recently adopted. Neither will the Post Office Department lose any of its workers through lack of funds to pay them their salaries. The only thing the city post office will lose is the use of its printing press. According to the act all print-ing of the federal establishments must be done at the government printing office. All small presses in various government departments and bureaus must shut down tonight at midnight. What will be done with the little printing establishments has not been dec ded dec ded.

The war-time postage rates added many thousands of dollars to government revenues, at the same time working little hardship on the patrons of the Post Office Department, these patrons including practically the 100,-000,000 American people. There were of the second of letter carriers here July 4, it was announced today. Clerks and carriers will be given the full legal holiday. Stamp windows at the city post office will be open all day, but all other windows will be closed. Collections will be made in the residence districts at 4 o'clock p.m. and 10 o'clock p.m. that day, and in the business district at the same hours.

The F street, New York avenue, 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue sta-tions will be open for the receipt of airplane mail only from 9 o'clock a.n to 10:40 o'clock a.m. The main offic will receive airplane mail as usual.

CHANCE FOR VOCATION CHEERS DISABLED MEN

"Disabled, but not disgruntled" is the peace slogan of wounded soldiers who are taking vocational training courses under the supervision of the federal board for vocational education, thus remaking themselves for new places in life. No grouch can be detected in the attitude of any of them, is the universal comment of the instructors.
"Plenty of prospects ahead," writes

"Plenty of prospects ahead," writes one boy with an arm wound.

"Without this chance I would be up against it," writes another badly-wounded young fellow.

"All the students are satisfied here," says a boy from a middle western college, where a number of re-education students have been placed.

"With the assurance of better jobs, fear of the future vanishes, and disabled soldiers find themselves contented and happy," said an official of the board today. "Handicaps become spurs to success. The boys who are returning from overseas more or less disabled are in fact showing the finest sort of spirit—the more serious the disability, as it sometimes seems, the disability, as it sometimes seems, the finer the spirit."
